JUDGE BAXTER

Expected to Be in Memphis this Morning to Try the Celebrated Receivership Case-

Probable Promotion of Capt. T. S. Davant to Be General Freight Agent-Notes.

The jary in the United States Court was discharged by Judge Hammond yesterday and the decks cleared for the rehearing of the sensational receivership case, involving the owner-ship of the Memphis, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad. About ten days sgo, as the readers of the Appeal will remember, Judge Baxter, sitting in chambers at Knoxville, appointed Capt. E. B. McHenry of this city, receiver of the Memphis, Selma and Brunswick railroad, on the prayer of the Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit the Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company of Philadelphia, which claimed to hold as trustee $1,000,000 of the bonds issued by Fred Wolffe.
A legal firm, formerly employed by Wolffe, consented to the decree, and Judge Saxler was not informed that the old Memphis, Selma and Brunswick had been foreclosed and that a live corporation known as the a live corporation known as the Memphis, Birmingham and Atlantic Memphis, Birmingham and Atlantic had arisen from its ashes, nor was the latter company notified of any such proceedings. A stop order was granted by Judge Hammond, and Judge Baxter continued it until to-day, when he telegraphed he would be here to give the matter a rehearing. He had not arrived, however, at midnight not arrived, however, at midnight. Should he come, Judge Hammond will sit with him this morning, and the contest will be a very bitter one. Judge Baxter's son, William Baxter, is one of the attorneys for the Guar-antee Trust and Safe Deposit Company. Meanwhile the new company, having obtained the necessary legislation in Mississippi, has gone into the field, and has aiready begun the work of extending its line from Holly Springs to the Mobile and Obio, a distance of sixty miles, feeling sure that the court will revoke the order appointing a receiver as soon as they are heard.

IMPROIAL TO THE APPRAL. CHATTANOGGA, TENN., January 27.— It is stated on the best authority that Thomas S. Davant, general freight and passenger agent of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, has been tendered the position of general freight agent of the East Tennesses system, made vicant by the resgnation of Jar. R. Ogden, who was appointed com-missioner of the Sauthern pool. The rumor was given color to-day by Mr. Davant passing through this city en route to Knoxville, in obedience to a telegram from Receiver Fink of the East Tennessee system. Twelve Thousand a Year. The handsome salary of $12,000 a year will be paid Mr. Jas. R. Ogden, the newly elected pool commissioner of the Board of Control of the associated railroads of Tennessee, Alabama and Kentucky. The board consists of M. H. Smith, president Louisville and Nashville railroad, chairmae; F. S. Bond, president Cincinnati, New Or-leans and Texas Pacific railroad; Henry Fink, receiver of the East Ten-nessee, Virginia and Georgia and Memphis and Charleston railroads; T. M. R. Talcott, vice-president of the Mobile and Ohio, and J. W. Thomas, president of the Nashville, Chattano-

Arnold & Co. Pushing Things. The work of building the Natchez, Red River and Texas road, the contract for which was recently awarded to Arnold & Co. of this city, is going along rapidly. Within the next ten days all the temporary bridges across the lagoon will have been replaced by permanent ones, and by the middle of the coming week the road will be ex-tended out as far as Hoover's bayou, which is within a few miles of Black river. The Vidalia depot is in process of erection, and the one recently at Lowenburg station is receiving the finishing touches of the painter. Arnold & Co. are thorough in the railroad business, and under their supervision and systematic arrangement everything goes on rapidly and in order.

The trunk lines have discovered that the Chesapeake and Ohio has the will, and is in a position to become a very dangerous competitor unless some steps are taken either to bring it into the pool or curb its tendency to lower rates. Commissioner Fink has been appealed to in the matter, and is understood to be in treaty with C. P. Huntington. Either one of two propositions will be made, that the Chesapeake and Okio come into the pool, submit to its conditions, and participate in its conditions. ticipate in its revenues on percentage basis, or maintain rates, content with an agreed differential of say 2 cents below Baltimore, or 20 cents per 100 pounds on thirteenth class present tariff.

Crossed the Boundary. Houston, Tax., January 27.—The first train over the narrow-gauge line between this city and Shreveport, La., yesterday crossed the Sabine river, the boundary line between this State and Louisiana, on temporary bridges. The completion of this road gives Houston another Eastern outlet. another Eastern outlet.

ON 'CHANGE.

A ROUND lot of Taxing District bonds was sold yesterday, by wire, to a New York banking firm at par.

Ar Liverpool yesterday American wheat was steady with a fair demand, holders offering moderately. Corn firm with a fair demand.

IMPORTANT meeting of directors of Merchants' Exchange to-day. A full attendance is desired as matters of vital import to the grain trade will come up.

Viscross on 'Change yesterday: L.
J. Callahan, Kanssa City; Mrs. R. C.
Brinkley, Mr. John Brinkley, August
Pruch, Brownsville; W. T. Chapman,
Randolph, Tenn.; E. H. Holloway,
Lonoke, Ark.; Gus Baldwin, New Orleans. Tax closing prices of May options at Chicago yesterday were as follows:
Pork, $$11.15; lard, 6.27ac: clear rib sides, 6.47ac; corn, 401@40ac; wheat, 87a@87ac; oats, 32c bid, a gain all along the line compared with Tuesday's prices.

Ir is reported in New York that Southern cotton centers are applying for an extension of loans to enable them to carry accumulating cotton stocks until better prices prevail. In-quiry among local banks yesterday elicited the fact that Memphis is in no her present stock of 141,000 bales with-ont assistance from the outside REPORT of Grain Elevator yesterday Buck corn, received, none; discharged, 958 bushels; in store, 41,686 bushels; sack corn received, none; discharged, 143 sacks; in store, 2370 sacks. Bulk oats received, 1940 bushels; discharged, 2646 bushels; in store, 41,771 bushels; ssex oats received, 662 sacks; dis-charged, 882 sacks; in store, 4759 sacks. Wheat, none received or discharged; in store, 20,783 bushels.

THE Cincinnati Price-Current has this to say of the cotton crop: "In the thirty-one weeks yet remaining of the cotton year the average receipt of 50,000 bales per week would make an aggregate crop of about 6,650,000 bales; in 1883 the receipts for the corresponding time were over 2,000,000 bales, and even on the small crop year of 1883-54 the amount which came into sight was 1,140,000 bales; a happy medium be-tween the two would seem to be a fair estimate for this season and that would result as above indicated."

THE decline in fatures in Liverpool is ascribed to the fact that Neill Bros. of New Orleans have cab ed to Liverpool that the present crop will range between 6,700,000 and 6,900,000 bales. These figures are regarded as so ex-tremely absurd by Memphis cotton men as to be treated with scorn and ridicule. In order to test the faith of Neill Bros. in the accuracy of their predictions, parties on 'Change yesterday expressed their willingness to wager from $2000 to $10,000 that the crop will not reach Neill Bros.' inside figures, 6,700,000.

THERE was general protest on 'Change vesterday against the persist-ence of the Quotation Committee in describing the tone of the Memphis market as "nominal." In the first place the phrase is meaningless. Reduced to its literal signification it announces to the world that the Memphis market exists in name only. The absurdity of such a statement is, of course, too apparent for argument.
The tone of the market cannot be nominal. By a stretch of commercial license it might be nominally firm or quiet or easy, or prices might be nominal, but even assuming that such was the idea intended to be conveyed by the phrase nominal, it does not accurately describe the con-dition of yesterday's market. There were sold here 153'0 bales of cotton. If there is anything very nominal about that, it's nominally a fair day's business. Is it the intention of the Mem-phis Cotton Exchange that the out-side world, especially shippers, shall believe that cotton in Memphis has only a nominal value? Is it the intention of the Mem-

THE THRILLING STORY Which the Lecturer Tells with a Straight Pace at the Museum,

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the clerical-looking lecturer at the museum yesterday, "allow me to call your at-tention to one of the strangest freaks of nature ever introduced to a dis-criminating public. If you are able to decide exactly what it is you will greatly oblige the scientific world. It is perhaps a mistake of nature, or in Latin (for the benefit of ladies) a lusus has used it, as has almost every hand-some building in the South and West natura, for even nature sometimes makes mistakes. Is history is soon told. A party of German scientists hunting in Congo land found this non-descript basking in the sun. Its human face, its enormous growth of woolly hair, its bear-like claws and the uncouth sounds it emitted at once attracted the wondering attention of the with a stout net. You can form but a faint idea of the changes which five years of kind treatment and civilized influences have effected. When first captured it was vicious and tried to claw and bite all who approached it. Now, as you observe, it is gentle and docile, talks in-telligently, and has learned to stand and walk on its hind legs. These limbs suggest the pachydermata (Greek, for the ladies benefit), or thick-skinned animals. I do not assert that this is a connecting link between the human race and the lower animals, but merely a freah Bar departure from otherwise stringent rules. I have no name for this queer anomaly, but, if you will excuse the slang, "If you will name it you can have it."

JUDGE FREEMAN Confined to His Home on Account of Sickness. A friend of Judge Freeman of the Supreme Court informed a represent-ative of the Arranz yesterday that he was confined at home on account of illness, and would not be able to resume his seat on the bench for some days. His illness is not of a serious character, but the immediate result of a difficult operation performed upon him a short time since, the loss of blood rendering him weak and unfitted for business. There are some important matters pressing upon the court, and it is understood that Gov. Bate will appoint the Hon. John S. Cooper of Fentress to act until Judge Freeman recovers.

STATE SHOW

Completed at the American Exposition at New Orleans-The Tennessne Exhibit Finished - Attracting Considerable Attention-Something About the State's Display.

Col. F. C. Morehead, formerly Commissioner of the American Exposition, arrived in the city yesterday, and is quartered at the Peabody Hotel. In answer to inquiries regarding the Exposition, he said that the attendance was steadily increasing and that he hoped the Exposition would be a greater success than a would be a greater success than a great many who had not yet visited it seemed disposed to think it would be. The Tennessee exhibit is now complete, and it is probably due to the display made this and last year that so many inquiries are now pouring in. The number of capitalists from all portions of the countilaists from all portions of the countilaists. italists from all portions of the country, more especially the West, who are prospecting in Tennessee, is a matter of public knowledge. The country is becoming keenly alive to the fact that if a man war to to turn an honest pen-ny he caur of select a more prop tous spot for this speculative feat than Ten-nessee. Her rich agricultural, stockpreeding lands, her limitless stores of mineral transmers, her timber and water power, are powerful attractions to investors, and many are coming in. The exhibit at the Exposition has recently been enriched by specimens of grain and grasses and marble, and is strictly in accordance with the rules restricting the display to agricultural and mineral resources. No manufactured goods are shown. The exhibit of marble includes 196 specimens, representing nearly as many varieties. A recent article in the Times Democra alluding to this exhibit, says: "There are in Middle and East Tennessee more than thirty coal mines operating, with a capital stock of from $100,000 to $2,000,000; two zinc mines, thirtytwo marble quarries producing every variety of marble except the pure white. The first quarry extensively worked was opened by the United States Government, and is located at the junction of the French Broad and Tennessee rivers. The marbles of this State have been warmed into attractiveness and brilliancy by the commingling of one or more of the brighter colors with the pearly tints of the sea shell. It was this rare beauty which drew the attention of the architect and caused it to be used so conspicuously in our national capital. From ously in our national capitol. From that supplies almost every fur-niture manufactory in our Union with material. The Lee Monument is made of marble taken from a quarry near Knoxville. The Pickwick Club

Applications for Sents Pouring In from the Country.

An Interesting Sketch of the Career

Hundreds of applications are pour-Hundreds of applications are pouring in from the country for tickets of admission to the meetings to be held by Moody and Sankey, and the committees have their hands full. In view of the fact that Mr. Moody has never been in Memphis, the following sketch of his career will be found interesting: Dwight L. Moody was born at Northfield, Mass., on the 5th of February, 1837, and at the age of eighteen he left his birth-place to go to Boston, where he obtained a situation in the business establishment of his uncle.

business establishment of his uncle. His education was limited to the ordinary branches of a common school education, but this does not seem to have operated to his disadvantage in his subsequent career. In 1856 he went to Chicago and engaged in the stove business, but even at that early ege (nincteen) he seemed to have been inspired with a desire to be of service to his fellow-men, for we find service to his fellow-men, for we find him first engaged in active Sunday-school work, and afterwards conducting the North Market Hall Mission in Chicago for six years, and subsequently holding religious meetings in a saloon. In 1858-49, when he was but twenty-one years of age, the Young Men's Christian Association was organized, of which he became so sealous a member that he abandoned all secular pursuits and devoted his entire time to the advancement of Christianity. In 1865 he be-voted his entire time to the advancement of Christianity. In 1865 be became president of the Young Men's Christian Association.

When the great fire of 1872 laid the city in ashes Mr. Moody's church and house were among the ruins, but a temporary chapel was erected on the site of his house of worship, and his success in that rude structure led to the building of the present beautiful church corner of La Salle street and Chicage avenue. Mr. Moody's co-worker, Mr. Sankey, was born at Edinburg, Pa, in 1840. He first met Mr. Moody at a National Convention of the Young National Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association held at Indianapolis. His sweet voice and effective singing of church music made a powerful impression upon Mr. Moody, who at once conceived the idea of enlisting his services in evangelistic work. After much persussion Mr. Sankey consented, and their success since then is part of the world's history. They have visited the largest cities on this continent and National Convention of the Young the largest cities on this continent and in England, and have everywhere drawn thousands to their meetings. Their meetings here next week are already being looked forward to with great interest.

Meister's New Restaurant. In the Masonic Temple building and in the rooms recently occupied by the postoffice, on Second street, opposite the Cotton Exchange, Meis ter, the well-known caterer to the public palate, has opened an elegant res-taurant for ladies and gentlemen. The place will be formally opened today for regular business. The restaurant is elegantly furnished and fitted up regardless of cost, and is the most attractive and inviting place in the city wherein to satisfy the appetite for the good things of life. The residents of the city and the surrounding country, and especially the ladies, are invited to call and give the restaurant their patronage. In rear of the res-taurant proper there are dining-rooms for private parties who desire to enjoy an elegant dinner, breakfast or supper in family style. Meister will keep everything that this and other markets afford, and his cookery and service are recognized as the very best in the city. Adjoining the restaurant department is the gentlemen's saloon, sitting and reading rooms. Meister's bar is stocked with the very finest and oldest brands of liquous of every de-scription in the lines of brandies, whiskies, wines, glo, rum, ales, porter etc. He has employed accomplished barkeepers who are scientific intermixers of drinks and are well known to the public. The place will open this morning, and everybody is invited
